

Privacy Policy Rev. 8.2016

At PicturEngine, we respect your privacy. Your personal information will not be sold or rented to third parties, or used in any unethical manner. We only collect information to enhance your experience on our website, to aid in the process of your purchase, provide support, or share with you information about our products, services, or news about our company. We take your security and privacy very seriously.

Security

The PicturEngine website is a secure environment for providing information and purchasing products. Many operational precautions are in place to protect the loss, misuse, alteration, and confidentiality of information under our control. The PicturEngine website is protected by firewalls and other security devices, and requires user authentication so that only registered users may access the site. Credit card transactions are run through a separate credit card server that uses SSL (Secure Sockets Layer), and transmits any necessary financial information through an encrypted link, and this information is not stored on the PicturEngine server. In spite of all precautions, perfect internet security does not exist and PicturEngine does not guarantee that its site is impenetrable or invulnerable to hackers.

Personal Information

PicturEngine collects certain personal information from users of the website. This personal information, as well as certain contact and account information is required from users in order to access and download larger than thumbnail sized images. You may choose not to provide any personal information and still have access to the majority of the website, but may be somewhat limited in its functionality. The information collected from registered users of PicturEngine helps enhance your experience by allowing us to:

- Create a more user-friendly website
- Process your orders and any invoices
- Maintain and update your account
- Collect site usage information for the purpose of improving and enhancing your search experience
- Provide email communications on information we think you will find useful, such as special offers, new services, and promotions

PicturEngine may share contact information with its partners or affiliates to enable them to provide you with special benefits, promotions, or offers. It is our policy not to send messages to members who have asked us not to do so, through an unsubscribe process. In every email, we will remind you of your option to opt out of future email communications.

Children

Persons under the age of 18 are not eligible to use this website unsupervised, register for an account, or submit any personal information to us. By using this site unsupervised, and/or registering for an account, you warrant that you are 18 years of age or older.

Cookies

Cookies are small text files stored on your computer. They are used by most websites to help personalize your web experience. Some features on pictureengine.com will not function if you do not allow cookies.

Using pictureengine.com means you agree to our use of cookies. You can choose to restrict or block cookies set on pictureengine.com through your browser settings at any time.

However, please be aware that restricting or blocking cookies set on pictureengine.com may impact the functionality or performance of the pictureengine.com website, or prevent you from using certain services provided through pictureengine.com. It will also affect our ability to update pictureengine.com to cater to user preferences and improve performance.

Changes to Privacy Statement

PicturEngine reserves the right to change our online privacy statement. Should you have any questions or concerns about information you supplied to PicturEngine, please contact support@pictureengine.com.
